PROCLAMATION

NATIONAL HOUSING DAY – November 22, 2026

WHEREAS, safe, affordable, and secure housing is a human right and essential for a healthy, vibrant, and inclusive community; and

AND WHEREAS, anyone can be impacted by the need for affordable housing (most commonly individuals and families in renter households, those with disabilities, lone-parent households, seniors, and young persons); and

AND WHEREAS, affordable housing options are vital to the social and economic success of the community; and

AND WHEREAS, municipal governments play a key role in addressing housing challenges by working with all levels of government, non-profit organizations, private developers, and community advocates to create diverse and accessible housing;

NOW THEREFORE, we, PJ Stasko, Mayor of the City of Camrose, and Cindy Trautman, Reeve of Camrose Country, do hereby proclaim November 22, 2026 as National Housing Day in the City and County of Camrose, Alberta.

We call upon residents to learn more about the need for affordable housing and its impact on well-being, safety, and success. We recognize the work done by the Housing and Homelessness Task Force and its members to improve access to housing for the most vulnerable of our region, and we urge all residents, community organizations, and businesses to recognize the importance of safe, affordable housing for all.

PJ Stasko, Mayor

City Trautman, Reeve
