

Would you like to be a MROO Ambassador?

As an Ambassador you would...

Be a MROO booster – You know other municipal employees and retirees, and we want you to spread the word about what MROO can do for them.

Encourage membership in MROO – You'll speak with active and retired OMERS members and share with them the many benefits of being a member.

Want to be even more involved?

You may be asked to make a presentation at a MROO event – a few times a year in each zone we present Retirement Planning Seminars to current OMERS employees nearing retirement. We also have representatives at OMERS Information Sessions, Zone sponsored events like wellness fairs, senior's events, golf tournaments, and Lunch & Learns with employers.

Attend professional conferences – MROO will host a booth at a number of municipal conferences each year. If you have a background that makes you a good fit, you can volunteer to attend and represent MROO.

You may be asked to volunteer and attend your Zone Meeting – Each spring MROO hosts a meeting in your zone. You may be asked to volunteer and assist at that event. You may even be part of the team responsible for planning the meeting.

The Fine Print

- You will require access to a computer for emails, virtual meetings, and submission of documents such as expense claims.
- As a volunteer you may be compensated for volunteering your time.
- You may be compensated for mileage driven to MROO events.
- You will be covered under MROO insurance in the event of any mishaps while on MROO business.
- You are not required to attend any event you are not comfortable participating in or if it does not fit your schedule.
